Good morning, Ms. Devine.

Thanks for the agendas. It turns out that your description of the closed session item is statutorily inadequate. First of all, "and/or" is not specific enough to allow members of the public to determine if they want to attend the meeting. If you have either existing or potential litigation but not both you're required to state which. If you have both you're required to say so. If you have existing litigation you're required to state the parties per the Brown Act at section 54954.5(c).

Thanks in advance for remedying this serious matter.
